RE: Rapid Response Training – September 10, 2026 9:00 am

Rapid Response Trainings are happening across the District. We will be hosting the training for our Local 4-00200 and Local 09620 members on September 10 at 9:00 am at the Edison Sub-District office.

Over the last year there has been significant legal and legislative actions that have a negative impact on working people, including workplace protections and bargaining rights that could affect your paycheck. Rapid Response is a nonpartisan communication network that shares concerns of Labor with members and their representatives through informational actions.

This training will help locals develop a communication network at their locals so they can get information out to their members. This network can also be used by local leadership for local issues like contract information, State and Federal laws and local concerns.

Director Wasiura and I believe it is imperative that ALL Local Unions send a representative to this very important training session.

Please RSVP to Robin Carberry– rcarberry@usw.org by August 28th with the name(s) of who your Local will be sending. Lunch will be provided. Local Unions are responsible for lost time and travel expenses.

To: USW Health Care Local Union Presidents and Recording Secretaries

Greetings:

This letter is to advise you that the 2026 USW Health Care Workers Council Conference will be held October 4 - 8, 2026 in Providence, RI. Our conference theme is, "Healing with Strength, Leading with Unity" and the agenda is designed to empower attendees with the tools necessary to engage rank and file health care workers and build an even stronger HCWC. Local union leaders are strongly encouraged to send representation from each healthcare bargaining unit.

The HCWC Conference is an important part of our International Union's commitment to support our healthcare worker members through education, collective bargaining, legislative action, and organizing.
